In today's fast-paced world, most people can speak two or more languages. In terms of languages, some languages are relatively easy to learn, some are more difficult to learn, and require a little time and effort. . From today's point of view, as a result of the reforms in the study of foreign languages, the young generation who are entering language learning, from pre-school education to higher education, learn by comparing their mother tongue and a foreign language at the same time.

It is in linguistics that this method is one of the best ways to achieve a positive and effective result in accelerating students' learning. Because this is very useful if the student who is learning a language has studied his mother tongue in depth, and if he learns by comparing his mother tongue and a foreign language at the same time, this has been tested over the years and is an effective method, and learning foreign languages through modern technologies is also very effective.

Currently, the textbooks and study guides presented in order to fundamentally implement the field of education in our country are a practical proof of this goal. In addition, from the point of view of attention to language learning in our country, unprecedented things have been done in the last 5-10 years, and this has been brought to the level of politics. It is worth mentioning that President Shavkat Miromonovich

Mirziyoyev emphasized that from 2021, foreign language teachers will be required to have national and international certificates. And this is now in practice. Because now the demand for language learning is increasing. It is correct to say that this is one of the main reasons for being among the developing countries. We should also mention that the use of modern technologies in the educational process It is an important factor for students to know and be able to use information communication tools. After all, modern technologies play a big role in language learning.

This process includes:

- when using computers, students can watch and listen to videos, demonstrations, dialogues, movies and cartoons in a foreign language.
- you can listen and watch foreign language radio broadcasts and TV programs
- more traditional method and use of cassettes
- CD players can be used

As additional information, in the process of globalization, it is difficult to imagine our life without the Internet. Through the Internet, there will be an opportunity to communicate with foreign speakers. Today, there are several different methods of innovative educational technologies. If they use wide and different methods to cover the topic in lessons, the effectiveness of the lesson will be high and the increase of students' interest in the lesson will be ensured. The use of various role-playing, action games in the teaching of foreign language classes increases the interest in the lesson and in learning. It helps students to communicate with others by working in pairs or small groups.

We can say about this that the use of modern technologies is of great importance in learning foreign languages. Technologies provide students with many resources and opportunities, make the learning process interactive and effective. The following advantages can be seen in learning foreign languages with the help of modern technologies.

Interactive learning tools: Ability to learn and practice interactively through mobile apps, online courses, and websites. These tools provide ample opportunities to improve grammar, pronunciation, and vocabulary.

Audiovisual materials: With the help of videos, audio recordings and podcasts, the language learning process comes alive. In this, the opportunity to develop listening and comprehension will expand, and it will also help to improve accent and pronunciation.

Artificial Intelligence: Artificial intelligence-based tools, such as chatbots and voice assistants, allow learners to have natural conversations, which is useful for practicing language use in real-world settings.

Online chats and language exchange platforms: Online chats and language exchange platforms allow students to communicate with native speakers of the language they are learning in different parts of the world. This, in turn, helps to get deeper into the culture and pronunciation.

Self-Assessment: Many online platforms and applications allow students to self-assess their learning and track their progress. Through tests, exercises and assessment tools, students can identify their strengths and weaknesses.

Flexibility: With the help of technology, language learning can be done anywhere and anytime. For example, through mobile applications or online classes, students will have the opportunity to study at any time and place.

In conclusion, we can say that learning foreign languages on the basis of modern technologies is relevant and important in order to ensure the special place of our country in the world community and to apply it more widely. The role of young people and the foreign languages they learn is invaluable in ensuring that our country gains its place among the nations of the world. To further strengthen this, the language metaphor acts as a bridge.
