

“INNOVATIVE METHODS OF TEACHING ENGLISH AND THEIR ANALYSIS”

Jumanazarova Dilnoza daughter of Rustem

2nd year student of the Faculty of Foreign Languages of Nukus State Pedagogical Institute named after Ajiniyaz

Abstract. The topic of innovative methods of teaching English and their role in our lives is aimed at highlighting the importance of modern pedagogical approaches and methods in the process of teaching English. In this annotation, in addition to the traditional methods of teaching English, the importance of increasing students' interest in English and making their language learning process effective through the use of technologies, interactive methods, computer programs and online platforms is keyed. Innovative methods, in particular, a communicative approach, project-based teaching, as well as working with visual and video materials, using the language in practice, accelerate students' language acquisition and develop their communicative competence. These methods help not only academic results, but also effective use of the English language in life. Innovative methods included in the process of learning and teaching English introduce not only language teaching pedagogues, but also students to new technologies, which makes their general expands the scope of knowledge and develops skills necessary for global communication.

Key words. Innovative method, interactive, platform, competence, global communication, visual material, practice, grammatical structures, diagram, development.

English is one of the most important and widely spoken languages in the world today. Its place and role in our life is evident in the following areas. English serves as the main language in international relations. Many international organizations, companies and businesses work in English, which facilitates trade and economic relations. English has become the leading language in fields such as scientific research, technology, medicine, and engineering. Many of the world's scientific articles and books are published in English, which makes it easier for students and scholars to exchange information on a global scale.

Most of the content available on the Internet is in English. Even in Uzbekistan, the English language is important for those who often use the Internet. Many software and mobile applications are developed in English. Movies, music, books and other cultural products in English are popular globally. Knowing English helps you better understand art and culture. Knowledge of English increases competitiveness in the labor market.

Many companies are interested in hiring professionals who know English, which will increase the chances of finding a job. Therefore, English language plays an important role not only in the world, but also in the daily life of everyone.

English has become a global communication language and is learned by millions of people in different parts of the world. Learning English plays an important role not only in expanding knowledge, but also in creating professional opportunities. Therefore, it is necessary to use several methods and approaches to effectively teach English. Communicative approach is one of the teaching methods, which ensures learning the language not only for teaching grammar rules, but also for communicating in real life. In this method, the main focus is on the development of pronunciation, speech skills and conversational skills. Students learn how to behave in real communication situations, ask questions, receive answers, and perform other interactive activities. One of the most effective ways to learn English is to practice listening regularly. By listening to a variety of audio and video materials, students gain an understanding of pronunciation, vocabulary, and language structure. With the help of movies, series, news and podcasts, students not only learn English, but also learn to understand different accents. English audiobooks and music can also be useful in the learning process. One of the most effective ways to teach English is to use an interactive approach. It encourages students to work in groups, and activities are organized based on various role-plays, debates, and guided texts. In this way, students will be free to express their thoughts, their passion for the language they are learning will increase, and the learning process will be more interesting. Teaching grammar based on rules alone may not be effective in many cases. Students need to learn grammar in practice, that is, by using the language in real situations. To give an example, students are given the opportunity to use grammatical structures through various dialogues. This method helps students understand and apply the learned rules in everyday life rather than memorizing them. Vocabulary is very important for learning English effectively. In the process of learning new words, students should be taught to use them in different contexts. At the same time, it is necessary to learn the riches of the language, such as synonyms, antonyms, phraseology and idiomatic expressions. Vocabulary can be strengthened through the processes of reading, writing, listening and speaking. Learning English using visual materials such as pictures, diagrams, videos and infographics is effective in teaching English. These materials make students more interested, help them learn the language faster and more effectively. Teaching in this way allows students to better understand concepts. Each student has unique interests and needs. For effective teaching, it is necessary to organize the teaching process taking into account the personal interests of students. For example, providing students with materials related to their favorite subjects or hobbies in English can help increase their motivation. Teaching reading and writing together. Nowadays, in our society, teachers use innovative technologies and ideas to form students' translation competence, and in the process of teaching, they first form the basic knowledge of the language, and gradually they form the concept of translation and develop their translation competence.

Listening training is very relevant today, because speech communication is impossible without listening. The concept of listening includes the process of perceiving and understanding sound speech. Listening, of course, is an important aspect in learning English. Innovative methods of teaching English make the language learning process more effective and interesting. Modern pedagogical approaches, in particular, the use of technologies, interactive methods and individual approaches, increase the motivation of students in learning the language and develop the ability of students to use the language in real life. The main role of innovative methods is that they increase the activity of students, form independent learning skills and make the language learning process more attractive and effective. For instance, online platforms and mobile applications encourage students to learn in a timely and consistent manner. Also, communicative and collaborative methods create opportunities for students to communicate with each other and use the language in real life.

In short, innovative methods of teaching English not only update the process of language teaching, but also greatly contribute to the personal and professional development of students. They improve the approach to language learning, activate students and help them to be successful in the process of global communication.

REFERENCES

1. S.M. Umedillaeva. Development of speech skills through a communicative approach. 2023
2. S.I. Ishanova. The effectiveness of the methods used in the development of listening comprehension. 2020
3. Madina Shirova. Methods and exercises for developing listening comprehension.
4. Sandalievа Nigora. Communicative approach to teaching foreign languages.. 74 p
5. Makhudov.K. Ways of Forming Intercultural Communication in Foreign Language. Teaching. Science and Education. 84-89b
6. Makhmudov K Integrating a Mother Tongue while Teaching a Foreign Language. Problems and Solutions. Literature and History 89-91
7. Yoldoshev J. Problems of new pedagogical technologies directions. 801-804