

TEACHING IELTS ACADEMIC WRITING TASK 1

Student of UzSWLU - Safiya Solihova Azamatovna

Abstract: Actually, it is usually said that writing section of each test is considered to be the most challenging part. Most students find it difficult. Teachers are responsible for making this section interesting and easy to understand and do. IELTS Academic Writing Task 1 requires candidates to generalize and explain illustrated information in a graph, chart, table, or diagram. This article will provide and share comprehensive guides and strategies for teachers to prepare their students for success.

Key words: writing, comprehensive, strategies and academic.

Аннотация: Обычно говорят, что письменная часть любого теста считается наиболее сложной. Большинству студентов она дается с трудом.

Преподаватели отвечают за то, чтобы сделать этот раздел интересным и понятным. IELTS Academic Writing Task 1 требует от кандидатов обобщения и объяснения иллюстрированной информации на графике, диаграмме, таблице или схеме. В этой статье будут представлены и распространены всеобъемлющие руководства и стратегии для преподавателей по подготовке своих студентов к успеху.

Ключевые слова: письмо, всесторонний, стратегии и академический.

Introduction:

Before explaining teaching strategies, it's considered to understand the task requirements in a detailed way for both teachers and students.

Initially, it is better to clarify the types of writing task 1 which test-takers are expected to have:

- Line graph: Showcases trends over time;

- Bar chart: Compares different statistics or groups;
- Pie chart: Showcases proportions or percentages of a whole;
- Table: Demonstrates information in rows and columns;
- Process diagram: Illustrates a sequence of steps or stages;
- Map: Shows geographical data.

Subsequently, educators ought to demonstrate the whole information about writing task 1. It could be illustrated via laptop or presentation.

The general info goes like this:

IELTS Academic Writing Task 1 requires the overall view of visual information (graphs, charts, tables, diagrams) in at least 150 words. This task 1 writing includes (introduction, overview, detailed description).

After showcasing the presentations, teachers may start explaining it. First and foremost, it is better to distribute ready sample essays of writing task 1. After the distribution, educators are supposed to make students to read the sample essays out loud. As soon as the reading process is complete, it is suggested to analyze each part of the essay. Starting from introduction. Actually, there are ready phrases and sentences to start the writing task 1 such as: “The given __ (bar chart, map and etc.) shows the data about) The second step should be accurately identifying key trends, features, and data points within the visual information. This involves more than just reading the numbers; it requires understanding the relationships between data sets. By looking at other data, teachers should explain the overview and body parts. It is crucial to mention that there is a specific vocabulary for each type of writing task 1 essays.

Teachers are supposed to distribute cards with special vocabulary for each type. The rest goes so on.

Conclusion:

In short, while the writing section often offers big challenges for students, this article has provided teachers with effective strategies and comprehensive guides to help students succeed in IELTS Academic Writing Task 1.

REFERENCE:

1. Pell, C. (2015, March 10). IELTS Writing Task 1 Grammar and Vocabulary Guide. [Updated for 2023]